Robert Wells Dies In West Virginia

Following an illness of several months, Robert Wells died at Huntington, W. Va., Tuesday evening. The body will be brought to this city and interred in Macphelah cemetery this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The funeral will be held at the residence of Frank G. Trimble on East Locust street and will be conducted by Rev. Ous Hamilton.

Mr. Wells was a native of Montgomery county and made this city his home until a few years ago when he moved to Ohio to reside. Bob Wells was a big-hearted, whole-souled, genial fellow who had a host of friends in Mt. Sterling who will be deeply grieved to learn of his death.

Ray said: "He is a fine fellow and is excellent in his preaching, as he is a fine man."

Harry Lockridge New Warehouse Manager

At a meeting of the directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association held in Lexington yesterday, Harry W. Lockridge was named manager of the local warehouses, succeeding Judge A. N. Crooks. Mr. Lockridge has had long years of experience in the tobacco business and is thoroughly competent for the new position, and will make the co-operative a valuable acquisition. Robert E. Beatty was named warehouse manager of this district, succeeding John R. Crockett, of Bath county, who was transferred to another district.

U. S. MAY PROSECUTE KU KLUX
Prosecution of the Ku Klux Klan for alleged violations of the federal penal code is under consideration at the department of justice.

A letter of Senator David Walsh, of Massachusetts, Democrat, has had the effect of prompting a search for precedents.

President Harding is on record against the activities of secret organizations such as the Ku Klux Klan and there is no question about the administration's hostility to the movement as practiced. The only question is as to the power of the federal government to cope with the matter.

Irrespective of the decision raised by the administration, enough has happened already to indicate that no more embarrassing question has been injected in American politics than that of the Ku Klux Klan. Politicians of both parties agree that ultimately it will have far-reaching consequences on party alignments in different parts of the country.

MOVE TO OHIO

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. May and children, of this county, left today for Franklin, Ohio, where they will locate. The best wishes of their many friends will follow them to their new home.

$37,100 CHRISTMAS SAVINGS WILL HELP HOLIDAY TRADE

The Christmas savings club for 1922 has closed at the Traders National Bank and vouchers will be mailed out by the 15th of December to all depositors. This immense sum of money, saved by the thrifty people of this community in small amounts, will boost the trade of the live merchants in Mt. Sterling as nothing else could do, and every merchant who has the good of his city and his business at heart should boost the new club—1923 Christmas savings—now open at the "Bank With a Welcome"—as they have never done before. The Christmas savings club was inaugurated by this progressive banking institution many years ago, starting with the small payment the first year of $2,500, and it has gradually grown until it has reached the enormous sum of more than $37,000. This money goes into the hands of savers, but a large portion of it will be spent for holiday goods.

The progressive spirit of Traders National Bank in working for this community is having its effects everywhere and is bringing to them new customers and depositors every day. They have been back of every movement for the building up of this community, and stand ready now to take the initiative step for something better for the community. Their Christmas savings club has grown to large proportions and has members from every section of this county, and will enlarge their territory after the New Year starts, and hopes to run its total by the next holiday season to more than $50,000.

The success of the club has been brought about by the liberal use of printer's ink in the papers and in every conceivable way that will help to advance it, and the increasing membership in the club has also brought many new depositors and accounts to the bank, and more will follow. The Traders National Bank is a bank of real service—service to its customers, service to its city, service to its county and its state. In every department it is progressive—it is a builder, not a destroyer, and as its years of usefulness grow and advance its influence for good in this section will be felt by thousands miles away. It is, in very truth, eastern Kentucky's most progressive banking institution, and gives freely of its time and its money for every movement that will help to advance Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county. Its president, Major D. J. Burchett, and its cashier, J. Oldham Greene, are bankers of experience and reliability, and know how to do the right thing at all times.

It is to your interest to join the 1923 Christmas savings club now, and if you wish to align yourself with a banking house which will interest it-

DAN PAUL ARRESTED IN LEXINGTON MYSTERY CASE

Dan Paul, formerly of Lexington, was arrested by Sheriff Powell Bosworth and charged with assaulting, with a blunt instrument, Mrs. Sallie True, who was seriously injured on Tuesday morning as she lay asleep in the home of her son, John W. True, Glenn Arvin avenue. No arrest was made at the time, but upon information obtained later from the son of the injured woman, Dan Paul was arrested when he came to the court house on other business. Mr. True stated, according to Sheriff Bosworth, that Paul threatened several days ago to "get even" with Mr. True, who had obtained his eviction from a house which he was renting. Sheriff Bosworth stated that if Paul is the man who committed the assault, it is probable that he entered the home with the intention of carrying out his threat, but in the darkness hit the wrong person.

CENTRE WILL BE DROPPED FROM HARVARD SCHEDULE

The Harvard football schedule for next fall will be of eight games, one less than this year. Four will be contests classed as heavy. Princeton will be played as usual, two weeks before the game with Yale. Centre College will be dropped. Virginia and North Carolina may take the place of Florida. Dartmouth in all probability will be retained under another one-year agreement. These are the principal proposals which the makers of the Harvard schedules are now taking into consideration.

Everything you need for the black cake.—Baber's, successor to Cornwell. "We sell it cheaper."

COLLIVER-JACKSON

Henry Colliver, of this city, and Miss Thelma Jackson, of Buffalo, N. Y., were married at the county clerk's office November 21. The bride is the daughter of T. H. Jackson, and is a charming young lady. The groom is the son of Mrs. James Colliver, of this city, and holds the position as operator at the Tabb Theatre. Many friends wish them a prosperous and happy married life.

Harlan Police Chief And Others Killed

James Pope, chief of police of Harlan; Lloyd Ball and his son, Sidney Ball, were killed in a gun battle in the Ball home in the central part of Harlan Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock. It is said that the officer received information that liquor was being taken into the Ball home. Accompanied by Officer James Angel, Chief Pope went to the house to investigate the rumor. Angel was placed at the rear door to prevent an escape, while the chief entered at the front. He was met just inside by the two Balls. In a few seconds the father and son were lying dead in the hall and Chief Pope staggered out of the house and fell dead on the sidewalk 30 feet away.

As the two Balls and Chief Pope were the only persons in the house at the time of the gun battle, and Officer Angel heard the shots, but saw nothing of the fight, it is only a matter of conjecture as to which fired first. It is believed, however, that Chief Pope killed his assailants after receiving the wound which caused his death.

Pope had served as chief of police of Harlan for two years. During the time he has made a reputation for fearlessness in the discharge of his duties. He has had narrow escapes from death and was considered one of the best police officers Harlan ever had.

BUT HE UNDERSTOOD "BEAT IT"

A tramp, arrested in the Ebenezer section, near Harrodsburg, was tried before County Judge Allin Tuesday. He had been wandering about the neighborhood for several days, when people became alarmed and called the sheriff, who took him to Harrodsburg and placed him in jail. He seemed to know very little English, and was unable to understand questions put to him. Louis Levitt was called to interview him and said he tried five different languages, none of which the man seemed to know. As nearly as could be understood his name was Grandy and he appeared to be from Russia, or from some of the countries adjoining it. Several linguists about the courthouse tried to talk to him without making any progress. Finally, Judge Allin said: "How long will it take you to get out of town?" "Five minutes," replied the tramp without hesitating. "I won't hurry you that much," said the judge, "but you can take your choice between getting out of town in 15 minutes or 60 days in jail." The stranger had no difficulty in understanding. He got up from his chair, put his heels together, made a low Chesterfieldian bow with his hat over his heart, and departed hastily. The judge had evidently hit on a language he knew.

Talented Singer For "Phoebe"

The Woman's History Club has secured Miss Josephine Strasser, of Frankfort, to take the leading role in "Phoebe" in the play of that name, which will be presented at the Tabb Theatre on December 12. Miss Strasser is a singer of note, having lately been graduated from the Conservatory of Music, Boston. She has appeared in many concerts in the east and created the role of "Phoebe" for the Frankfort production, which was such a huge success that the Deacon Production Company has been asked to give a return performance on December 20. With the exceptionally clever people of Mt. Sterling who are taking part in the production and with the support of the Woman's History Club, "Phoebe" promises to be the best local talent production ever staged in the city.

"Phoebe" is essentially a real musical comedy, with a distinct plot, clever songs, beautiful costumes and professional dances. The Deacon Production Company has made a distinct place for itself in the producing field by its breaking away from the old standard amateur show. The spectators of "Phoebe" find an entirely different show than any they have ever seen. There are burlesqued bits of pantomime, unusual dances of the new school and comedy delivered without the aid of slapstick. Perhaps the most notable feature is the "Bacchanale," a ballad which depicts by dance the early Grecian festival of Bacchus. In it are the slave girls, fruit bearers, wine makers, dancing girls, and so forth. The costumes of tie-dye make a weird color effect that is only obtained by this Javanese method of coloring. All in all, the play is sure to be the sensation of years.

SPRAY NOW FOR PEACH LEAF CURL, ORCHARD MEN SUGGEST

This is the time of the year to spray peach trees with lime sulphur to prevent damage next spring from peach leaf curl, orchard specialists at the College of Agriculture say. Many farmers and growers make the mistake of putting off the spraying and then getting alarmed because the leaves on their peach trees curl up and rot after it is too late to stop the disease.

Leaves infested with the disease become swollen, distorted and curled and finally drop off soon after they unfold in the spring. This takes the life out of the trees and finally causes the fruit to drop. The disease is checked by spraying the trees at this time of the year with a lime sulphur solution made by using one part of commercial lime sulphur to eight of water.

Our modern flapper should certainly be careful about the kind of example she sets for her grandmother.

WONDERFUL NEW YORK

Editor Advocate: What I have to say is not for the benefit of those who read this and have had the good fortune to see New York, but for those unfortunate "Roubens and stay-at-homes" who have not seen the greatest city on earth.

You fail to see many of its home-folks on the streets, as the visiting or floating population fill them to overflowing, and notwithstanding she has hundreds of hotels, it is a rare thing to be able to get a room in one unless you send in your reservation days ahead of time. If you want a good seat in many one of the thousand theaters or picture shows you must be on time or be turned away. About the only places in New York that I see where space was to spare was in her churches. The people are too busy, even on Sunday, to go to church, and outside attractions take them to Coney Island and hundreds of seaside resorts in the summer and winter gardens in winter. Within a radius of 100 miles lives more than one-tenth the population of the United States.

They once counted money by hundreds, but now millions and billions even look small to the capitalist of the city. To float a good scheme in New York it is a hard matter to enlist attention of moneyed men unless it is for a million or more. Her streets, once of granite blocks and cobblestones, now look as if made of silk velvet, and the noises you once ran up against by vehicular travel have disappeared. The constant travel over them is only stilled by an innumerable host at street crossings, where policemen hold the crowds going one way for a few moments to let those going in an opposite direction pass.

While waiting at the corner of Forty-second street and Fifth avenue for a chance to pass the avenue, I said to my wife in the presence of a policeman, and as if I meant it, "Why, surely there is a picnic in town today." You should have seen the cop's face with a broad grin. Were I to go into detail in an attempt to tell about New York, you would have to give the whole of your paper, and then some, and only get a smattering of what was there.

There is the Statue of Liberty on Bedloe Island, 306 feet and 6 inches high; Brooklyn bridge, which is 6,016 feet long, costing $15,000,000; Manhattan bridge, 6,885 feet long, and costing $16,698,188; Williamsburg bridge, north of Manhattan, is 7,308 feet long and cost $23,100,000. Besides these three bridges there are, I think, 20 or more bridges spanning East river from the bay to Speyten Diver and the Hudson river.

Her tall buildings are phenomenal. The Singer building is 612 feet high, with 47 stories; Metropolitan, 700 feet high, 52 stories; Municipal, 42 stories; Woolworth, 792 feet high, 57 stories. The stock exchange cost more than $100,000,000. Many of the hotels have from 1,000 to 2,000 rooms, with bath in each room, swimming pools and flower gardens attached. You take your choice of the Ilmore, Commdore, Vanderbilt, Astor House, Astor, or Pennsylvania at from $4 per room up, or stop at the ten-story Mills at 30 cents per night. You can adjust your meals from $5 up to most any price, or you can get a hot dog, piece of brown bread with mustard or horse radish for just an old-fashioned nickel. You can ride the surface cars, the elevated or subway from one end of the city to the other for five cents, or get a taxi at any price you care to pay. If you choose, you can take the air for a ride, catch a flying machine and sail around the city for a ten-spot. Statistics are dry, but the statistics of New York are too overwhelming to be dry. Ninety per cent of all the ready-made clothing worn by men, women and children in the country are made here, with enormous exports elsewhere. More than a thousand newspapers and magazines are published in New York, their yearly circulation reaching into billions of copies over all part of the world, as do the books, pamphlets and reports issued here. New York is the richest city in the world. Each year more than a hundred million dollars is given to charity.

More than 600,000 women and girls are employed in the factories, shops, stores and offices, arts and professions of this big city. There are more Jews here than in Jerusalem, more Irish than in Dublin and the third largest Russian city. It has nearly 400 miles of water front. The taxable real estate is worth nearly a thousand million dollars.

Oh, well, there is so much to see, so many places to go, I can't begin to tell you. Here are antique shops and museums galore, art galleries, parks; if you like music, there are operas and concerts, vocal and instrumental music to your heart's content; if it is the theater or picture show you are looking for, you may go twice a day and near see them all in a whole big year. If you want to visit a city of the near east or far east, go to the Ghetto and Mulberry street and see the pushcarts and every conceivable commodity for sale at prices that would stagger you when compared to up-town prices.

All these and thousands of other things to be seen in New York are more thrilling than any Arabian Night's dream and neither tongue nor pen, if time and space were given, could within a thousand years begin to tell the full story of the great city, its wonders and beauties, its accomplishments and possibilities.

As the Queen of Sheba said to Solomon, "The half was not told me," I have not told you half, but now I must "check in."—Epaminondas Mulligan.

HAWAIIAN AIRS FOR ITS THEME

Grass-skirted girls will dance hula-hula at the Tabb Saturday, December 2, matinee and night. "Under Hawaiian Skies," which smacks of the beach at Waikiki and other Honolulu resorts, will be presented by Lester Al Smith at the Tabb for two performances Saturday. The reproduction will be neatly dressed and the company will give apparent pleasure to the audience. Grass-skirted girls, steel guitars and ukeleles will be quite prominent on the bill and the weird Hawaiian melodies will be featured. A good performance of the widely known hula-hula dance, which is supposed to be a typical Hawaiian product, will be introduced gaily and motionfully, as it should be. The ukeleles and the steel guitars will be heard in the tunes that have become known Hawaiian in their themes and rhythm. For many, many people the melodies which are attributed to the Hawaiian world a powerful influence and their rendition by native Hawaiians is the more interesting. There is something plaintive, yet melodious, about these Hawaiian tunes, and their seductiveness is generally conceded. "Under Hawaiian Skies" seeks to reflect something of the atmosphere of the "crossroads of the Pacific" and at the same time to provide an entertaining story, a thread of a love affair being encouraged. Those with a taste for Hawaiian songs and dances will be given an opportunity to gratify their desires at the Tabb Saturday. A special matinee will be given Saturday. This is a road show, not a moving picture.

REARRANGEMENT OF KITCHEN LIGHTENS HOUSEWIFE'S TASKS

New equipment is not always required to make home kitchens more convenient and less tiring to work in, says a report to the United States Department of Agriculture on extension agent work. Much can be done by rearranging the equipment already on hand, such as grouping objects commonly used in the preparation of food, or those used for washing or storing dishes, or articles belonging to the cleaning outfit. In many cases the attention of the housewife is drawn to the need of doing work requiring a good light by a window, or by having a good suspended light at night. One widely adopted improvement is that of giving old floors an easily cleaned surface. A number of simple contrivances can be made at home to lighten the housework, and frequently the farmer himself will assist by building shelves, a folding ironing board, dresser, wheel tray, and other labor saving conveniences. Improvements in farm kitchens are being carried on in practically all the states. Last year, through demonstrations given by extension workers, over 21,000 families are reported as adopting suggestions regarding home arrangement and management; 7,000 kitchens were rearranged, 5,000 water systems were installed, 3,000 washing machines and 4,000 steam pressure cookers purchased, 65,000 homes screened, 4,000 septic tanks installed, and 7,000 lighting systems placed in farm homes.

Produce Review

Receipts of live poultry show a seasonable increase at New York as well as at Chicago and the movement continues heavy throughout the producing sections. Arrivals of live poultry in New York alone are reported as 300 carlots, as compared with 227 cars the previous week. Prices have eased off a little, due to increased receipts, but the most noticeable decline in New York was on ducks and geese, which were quoted at 26 and 27 cents, respectively, on November 13, and 19 and 20 cents on November 23.

Fresh eggs have been selling more slowly, due to high prices, with some accumulation. The market closed easier with a decline of fully 5 cents per dozen on November 23.

Storage eggs are moving better, which is usually the case prior to Thanksgiving. Holdings in Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia are greater than last year, as the following record of stocks will show:

In storage November 22, 1922, 2,234,000 cases; same day, 1921, 1,581,000 cases; excess, 653,000 cases.

Increased consumption of eggs will be necessary to clear stocks satisfactorily.

The make of butter has just about reached the low point of the year, with higher prices ruling for butter in the larger markets. Some Danish butter of fine quality has reached New York, and more is on the water.

It is expected the high markets will attract some shipments from New Zealand to arrive about the first of the year. The better grades of butter are in firm demand, and prices for butterfat are generally higher in the producing territories.

Steady progress is being made in the campaign to wipe out tuberculosis in Lewis county cattle herds, County Agent R. O. Bate says. Thirty days' work in the campaign recently resulted in 237 farmers listing 1,399 cattle to be tested for the disease.

Poultry culling demonstrations held this fall in McLean county by County Agent R. H. Ford and the extension division of the College of Agriculture have helped scores of farmers in that section of the state get rid of the poor layers in their flocks. In one month a total of 37 flocks were culled to show farmers how to distinguish between the good and poor layers. A total of 1,468 birds were handled, 521 of these being rejected as culls.

Scrub livestock is continuing to lose its place on Rockcastle county farms, County Agent R. F. Spence says. Four Duroc Jersey boars, six Hampshire rams and seven roosters are the most recent additions to purebred stock already on the farms. Systematic work is being done in the county to get the farmers to turn from scrub and mongrel to purebred stock.

Seventy Henderson county farmers and their wives have entered their flocks in the winter egg laying project being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture. They will feed and take care of their hens according to recommended practices and keep daily records on the number of eggs they get in order to show how good feed and the right kind of care help hens lay eggs in winter.

HEALTH OF STATE WAS GOOD

Kentucky was healthier last year than the average of the thirty-eight states included in the registration area of the United States Bureau, it is shown by a report of the bureau made public at Louisville Monday by the State Board of Health which gives Kentucky's death rate for the year as 10.5, while the average for the thirty-eight states was 11.3, a difference of .8 in Kentucky's favor.

In comparison with the states adjoining it, Kentucky also makes a good showing, only one neighboring state having a death rate lower than Kentucky's, one other having the same rate, and all others having a rate higher than this commonwealth's.

Of these states Missouri, with a death rate of 10.3, made the best showing. Kentucky and Ohio, with rates of 10.5, came next. Then, in order, came Indiana, with a death rate of 10.7; West Virginia, 10.8; Tennessee, 11.1 and Virginia, 12.7. West Virginia is not yet in the registration area of the United States census bureau, and the figure given for that state is its own.

The reduction in Kentucky's death rate from 11.8 to 10.5, or 1.2, is under the average reduction of 1.5 effected by the thirty-eight states of the registration area, the report also shows.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving Day of 1922 is here. Why should the American people be thankful, a day for sport and pleasure? From whom cometh the blessings of the past year and those we are now enjoying? It is all from God, the Creator and because of this fact, then, a nation should bow to Him, show reverence and praise Him for His many blessings. Wherever we may be this day, whether in the house of worship, in the home, in the field, be thankful to Him who giveth and withholdeth not, and then with the end of this day be sure to resolve and, true to determination, live closer to and for God, mindful that the hour is near at hand when each now living shall pass the great divide. There is work for all to do and in the doing of it happiness comes to the faithful. Thankful we are and Thanksgiving is a joy. Look not backward, but forward, doing for and praising Him.

THERE IS A REASON

The fall off in the sales of turkeys on the Mt. Sterling market would be startling without a reason for it. Heretofore buyers were advertisers, sharp competitors, and this year buyers for a reason did not advertise for these birds, and hence the amazing slump from a shipment of five carloads to two carloads. There are many birds in the country and the failure of local buyers to tell the raisers that they wanted their Thanksgiving birds at a price brought an unlooked for effect. Many reasons are given why the birds were not turned loose as heretofore, but the only thing most reasonable is the local buyers failed to advertise, and the raisers saw what they construed a knife up the sleeve. A lesson, whether you buy or whether you sell, it pays to inform the people. It pays to advertise.

A FORECAST

The present sales of tobacco at the independent warehouses are a forecast of what the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association may expect. The cause for this sales organization was to obtain prices sufficiently remunerative to encourage the growers to continue in the production of this crop, and the success is so marked that the co-operative may consider itself wise in effecting this strong compact. Well, do the buyers know that farmers are growing in self-reliance and protection, and if this organization does not continue to produce desired results they will go a step further and put in their own factories and do their own marketing of the weed? But the effect is marked and the crops of this section, we are sure, will bring satisfactory prices—in advance of any yet realized.

Ever notice that the fellows who are most in need of advice are the lads who are always trying to give it away?

One reason why Russia isn't getting anywhere is that it takes a day and a half to count up enough rubles to pay for a loaf of bread.

NEW YORK POLL SHOWS SOLDIER BONUS WINNING

"Passage of bonus indicated by a poll of new congress," is the heading of the New York Times, November 18, over a tabulation of the standing of senators and representatives following a canvass of the recently elected membership.

The Times states that "an overwhelming preponderance of new members of the house of representatives are in favor" of the adjusted compensation, "and nearly as great a preponderance of advocates among the new members of the United States senate."

The result of the poll, coupled with the record of votes of those who remain in congress, shows that adjusted compensation advocates in the house are in a position again to override a veto if President Harding finds the next bill no more satisfactory to him than the last.

Assuming that re-elected representatives will vote on another veto the same way they did the last time, and counting the expressions of those new representatives who replied to the Times' query, a tabulation of the result gives 292 for adjusted compensation and 53 votes against, with ninety members unrepresented, either because they are new members and did not reply to the query, or because they are old members and failed to vote on the question.

The Times says the situation in the senate is more closely balanced, if a vote on the veto comes up. The poll gives sixty-three senators for and twenty-seven against adjusted compensation, with three non-committal, one non-committal at present but likely to announce his position; one ill and one whose position is in question. Under the ruling requiring a two-thirds vote to override a veto, the supporters would have to obtain sixty-four votes in the senate, the Times points out, and adds: "On the face of the canvass, it would seem likely that the supporters might obtain the additional vote needed."

Of the 18 new senators-elect canvassed, replies were received from 14. Nine declared in favor of adjusted compensation, some of them adding, "as advocated by the American Legion." One, Frank L. Greene, of Vermont, telegraphed that he is against it. Three others, Bayard, of Delaware; Bruce, of Maryland, and George, of Georgia, declined to express an opinion.

AUXILIARY PRESIDENT ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, has issued a proclamation to the mothers of America urging all to visit the schools of their children for the promotion of better citizenship. The proclamation follows:

"To the Mothers of America: Your cooperation is sought in bringing before the citizens of your community the need for better schools, better teachers, better educational methods. You can do this through observance of American Education Week, December 3 to 9. It will be put before the public on those days by the American Legion, the National Education Association and the United States Bureau of Education.

"You can co-operate by going to visit the class room in which your child is enrolled; by turning your attention to the children of the foreign-born in your city; by studying the educational system in vogue, its defects, and by learning how you can remedy them through your vote in school elections.

"No greater opportunity has ever been placed before the mothers of America to promote their children's welfare, then in this concentration on a nation-wide plan of studying educational needs that equality in opportunity may be afforded every boy and girl and illiteracy be wiped out. Mothers, it is your duty to study your school system and to remember that children today are citizens of tomorrow. Good schools make good citizens."

Dr. Barrett is one of the most widely known club and organization women in America—a woman as well known internationally as in her own country. Her home is in Alexandria, Va. She bears her title as doctor of medicine and as holder of a degree in science. She founded the American Legion Auxiliary in Virginia, deriving her eligibility from her four sons who served in the world war. Three of her grandsons also were in the service. She is the mother of six children and has six grandchildren.

A native of Virginia, her home in Alexandria is on a parcel of the original land grant made by Charles II to the Waller family, her ancestors, who came to America with Captain John Smith.

The honor of being president of the auxiliary came to Dr. Barrett unexpectedly in New Orleans, but was willingly and gladly accepted by her, and she promises a year of devoted effort and endeavor to the 200,000 auxiliary members.

HOWARD'S MILL

Several hogs have been slaughtered in this section.

There has not been much tobacco stripped on account of only one season, and it came on Sunday.

The Saints of this place closed a successful meeting Sunday night. The meeting resulted in 33 additions to the church membership.

The Howard's Mill school, of which Mrs. Tom Reaser and Miss Martha Rasmie are teachers, will give a pie and box supper Friday night, December 1, and the string band of Stepstone is expected to furnish the music. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the school. Everybody is invited.

Rev. W. S. Scantland will preach at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night. Everybody is invited to the services.

A trial will convince you of our quality groceries, fresh vegetables and home-killed meats that have a flavor—Baber's, successor to Cornwell. "We sell it cheaper."

CHILD DIES OF BURNS

Winifred C. Jackson, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson, who live on the Kelly Browning farm near Pine Grove, died in the Clark county hospital Wednesday morning as a result of burns received Tuesday when her clothing caught fire from an open grate. She will be buried this afternoon in the Winchester cemetery.

SMALL SHIPMENTS FOR CITY

This year from this place the turkeys handled by the local turkey buyers amounted to one large and one small carload of Thanksgiving birds. This is a big fall off from previous years. The shipments have been around five carloads of these slaughtered birds. The highest prices paid which came to our notice were 38 cents, a small bunch purchased for home consumption.

"A jazz orchestra will furnish the music." It can't be done.

Self praise is usually sincere.

LEXINGTON INDEPENDENT TOBACCO SALES FLOORS

The Lexington independent tobacco warehouses have had on the floors and sold up to the hour for closing yesterday afternoon about 325,000 pounds, which brought an average of in round numbers $29.50. The next sales will open at the four independent house in Lexington Monday morning, December 4. The outlook for the sales of crops listed with the burley growers' association is indeed flattering. Warehouses of this organization will be ready to receive crops about December 11 and prices will be made soon thereafter.

Our service will prove to you we appreciate your business. Call 154 for your groceries, fruits, vegetables and fresh and cured meats—Baber's, successor to Cornwell. "We sell it cheaper."

What Maud Purina Represents

MAUD PURINA is the most famous mule character in the country. Most everybody knows Maud. Maud is an amusing mule. But her main intent in life is to represent Purina O-Molene, the balanced feed for mules and horses. Maud has shown thousands of horse and mule owners why dry, tasteless oats, corn and hay do not produce the most energy and longest service from work animals.

It is not the quantity you feed but the kind. Corn and oats lack variety and make it necessary to send mules and horses to pasture, if they are expected to last long.

Purina O-Molene supplies the necessary variety to keep the animals in good health and make them stronger. The choice grains are put through a special process that makes them more appetizing. This process also makes O-Molene more completely digestible. This, of course, produces more results. And you use much less O-Molene than ordinary grains or "mixed feed."

Try a few bags and watch the excellent results.

DECEMBER IS BEST MONTH TO STUDY FARM BUSINESS

December is the best time of the year for the farmer to study his business, according to W. D. Nicholls, head of the farm economics department of the College of Agriculture. At that time the main field work is over, the yield, quality and market price of the farm products are known and the long nights and weather at this season of the year are such that there is limited time for field work. This gives the farmer a good chance to look back over the year to make an invoice of mistakes and successes and plan ahead for the coming year. The lead pencil used during the winter months to study the farm business and make plans for the new year is the greatest labor saving and profit insuring implement on the farm. Mr. Nicholls says.

"Farm profits in 1923 will be determined to a large extent by the care and thought that is used in planning and scheduling the farm work for the year. Successful farmers plan their work at this time of the year and then see to it that their plans work out in the next twelve months. This helps them keep ahead of their work and that is a big item in making the farm pay."

"More farmers each year are adopting the plan of keeping a record over the year of farm work done, weather conditions, dates of killing frosts, timely rains, extreme drouths, market variations and other timely data. Many other farmers add to these records by using a simple system to record the receipts and expenditures of the farm business. Such records used in connection with the inventories that more and more farmers are making each year help the farmer make a complete study of the farm business."

"Scores of farmers are going further and charging the costs of labor, materials and other items to the various crops and stock that they were used in connection with. This helps them determine with reasonable accuracy the relative profit of the different farm enterprises. Such calculations need not be exact. On the other hand, estimates can be made roughly and with enough accuracy to be practical. Many successful farmers also are finding that cost account records, showing what it costs to produce crops and other farm products, are helpful in making a study of the farm business."

TRAINING APPLICATIONS CLOSE ON DECEMBER 15

A warning has been issued to former service men and women throughout the United States by Joe Sparks, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, that all veterans who desire vocational training and have not made application must do so under the present law before December 16.

Those who wait until after this date will forfeit their right of receiving this government training. There are several ways in which this application can be made. The claimant may make application by writing a letter expressing a desire to apply for vocational work to any one of the bureau offices located throughout the United States. It is necessary for the applicant to sign his name so that the bureau may consider the application as made by the man himself. It is advisable for the applicant to make his application in person at one of the district or sub-district offices of the United States Veterans' Bureau, although this is not absolutely necessary.

Forms may be obtained at any one of the bureau offices or from any of the co-operating agencies such as the American Legion, the Red Cross or other veteran organizations. These forms should be filled out, signed and forwarded to one of the veteran bureau offices. If a person is so situated that he is unable to obtain one of these forms a letter will be accepted as an application.

Where the postmark of such letter or the form shows that it was made on or before December 15 the application will be considered as where the man enters the office before the close of the working day on December 15. Applications mailed later than this date will be too late.

A person who is in doubt as to whether he has a valid application on file should take steps immediately to ascertain his status from one of the offices of the bureau. The government is eager that all former service men who are entitled to the benefits of this act should take advantage of the opportunity. All applications received will have the fullest consideration and if the facts presented are sufficient to meet the provisions of the rehabilitation act the claimant will be awarded the benefits under the law.

DIPLOMATIC COLLEGE ASSURED

The board of trustees of the University of Kentucky at a special meeting formally accepted the provisions of the will of the late Dr. James K. Patterson, for forty years president of the university, directing that the income of his estate be used to create a college to be named for William Andrew Patterson, Dr. Patterson's deceased son, to train young men for the diplomatic and consular service of the United States and to provide special training for those who may seek employment in extending upon national and scientific lines the commercial relations of America.

Additional provisions that Dr. Patterson's library, consisting of several thousand volumes and worth $10,000, be given to the university, provided it remain intact in the house in which Dr. Patterson lived and died, were also accepted.

In accepting the provisions of Dr. Patterson's will the board of trustees formally agreed to the establishment of a school "at an early date," which will cover courses to extend over four years, embracing international law, municipal and civil law, political science, commercial ethics, comparative philosophy, romance and Oriental language. It is estimated that the estate, after 40 or 50 years, will yield $35,000 or $40,000 annually.

You may think you are smart, but do you know that people in China have to get up twelve hours before we do in this country?

TANKAGE GONE TWO DAYS;
HENS LAY 320 EGGS LESS

Animal protein, fed to hens either in the form of tankage, sour skim milk or semi-solid buttermilk, is a big item in keeping the winter egg basket full, according to results obtained during the year just passed by S. J. Howard, a Henderson county farmer, living near Corydon. Mr. Howard, along with 46 other farmers scattered over the state, has just completed the records which he kept on his farm flock for the year in co-operation with the extension division of the College of Agriculture to show the value of recommended practices in feeding and taking care of hens. Being without tankage twoday a last January caused his flock of 167 White Leghorns to lay 320 eggs less that month than they laid the previous month, according to one of his reports. His flock was the third highest producing one out of the 47 for the year ending November 1, each of his hens having laid a naverage of 164 eggs during the 12 months.

Mr. Howard, who started his records with 167 hens in his flock and ended the year with 71 hens, kept a mash made of bran, shorts, hominy hearts and tankage before his birds at all times. They also were given a grain feed of corn and wheat. After the records had been running for several months, he added oats to this grain feed. In one representative month during the year, he used a total of 112 pounds of bran, 135 pounds of shorts, 157.5 pounds of hominy hearts and 67.5 pounds of tankage in making up his mash. The same month he fed a total of seven bushels of corn and 22 5pounds of wheat. Although the tankage was left out of this feed for only two days one month, the egg production of the flock dropped 320 eggs before the hens could be brought back into laying after the tankage again was added.

Like many other successful farm poultrymen, Mr. Howard hatches his chicks in an incubator and broods them under a colony brooder, thereby keeping his hens for egg laying only. His work in co-operation with the college has made it possible for him to give his neighbors many other pointers in the feeding and care of hens so that they will lay more eggs.

SALVATION ARMY WORKER COMPLIMENTS LOCAL NURSE

Charles Mohr, who was here in the interest of the Salvation Army, had this to say: "While the cause of the Salvation Army is a big factor in the world in helping the poor, I was indeed glad to observe the good work Miss Florence Wallingford, public health nurse, is conducting. It is a big task for one nurse to undertake; however, she is doing it with credit. Miss Wallingford is an asset for the community and should be compensated accordingly. On the other hand, the board will, no doubt, give her the proper assistance in caring for her and the worthy sick. The county and citizens should not hesitate to see that the work of the nurse is well financed.

"I found the finest kind of people here," Mr. Mohr added, "and when it can be said that a city or county is up to required health condition it soon becomes known that your community is healthy. I am sure Miss Wallingford and Montgomery county have the co-operation of myself and the Salvation Army. Keep up the good work," urged the campaigner.

In conclusion he said the people should be on the alert against fakers who visit this place.

An appeal for funds for the Salvation Army Home Service Fund of Kentucky is to be sent direct to the citizens of Montgomery county by mail in the near future. The cause, as we all know, is a deserving one because of the world of good it does for the poor. Its doors are open at all times where the sick, disabled soldiers, fallen women, friendless and other worthy ones can tell their troubles which will receive response. The Salvation Army will not say no. They act quickly. They make the unhappy feel they have a friend.

There are some good traits in them all like in the best of us. When fallen women are taken in hand they admit their error and repent. So with many a man because of drink. There are thousands who were shown the right path by the Army and are today good citizens, because the Salvation Army did not shove them down hill. Because of this the blue bonnet lassies could go in the most notorious saloons in the country, if there were any, and the men would raise their hats to them.

The appeal which will confront the county will bear the following organization:

M. J. Goodwin, superintendent of schools, chairman; J. D. Brother, secretary; B. Frank Perry, president Exchange Bank of Kentucky, treasurer; Mayor W. R. McKee, Henry Barnes, adjutant Montgomery Post, American Legion; County Judge Senff; Mrs. A. B. Oldham, Montgomery County War Mothers; Florence Wallingford, public health nurse; H. A. Babb, superintendent city schools; Charles E. Duff, sheriff; Nell Pangburn, secretary American Legion Auxiliary; Squire Turner, Postmaster; John W. Trimble, Exalted Ruler of local Elks, Lewis H. Killpatrick, state historian, American Legion of Kentucky; Mrs. Will Ed Jones, president Country Woman's Club; Mrs. Harry B. Ringo, president of Junior Club; Miss Alice Cassity, president of Woman's Club; Mrs. John Walsh, president of Tuesday Club.

NEW YORK CRITICS

YIELD TO BARRYMORE

Every newspaper in New York accorded "Sherlock Holmes," the Goldwyn super-feature starring John Barrymore, the highest praise when it was given a pre-release showing at the world's largest theater, the Capitol, and broke all records for a week's engagement at that house, following it with a three months' run at B. S. Moss' Cameo theatre in the heart of New York's theatrical district. It then moved to the Broadway theatre for an additional week on Broadway.

Barrymore's interpretation of Conan Doyle's famous character was acclaimed as the finest thing he had ever done for the screen and the picture, made under the direction of Albert Parker, who "shot" the scenes in England and Switzerland as well as America, was conceded to be a masterpiece of motion picture construction.

The Daily News, always a frank critic of motion pictures, gave the following summary: "Direction—Superb; Photography—Very Good; Value—100 per cent." The review accompanying this summary enlarges upon the merits of the picture as follows: "Sherlock Holmes is by far the most thrilling character in detective fiction. He's always the man who plays the last card holds the whip hand and that kind of thing. So satisfactory, I think, to be sure your hero is going to come up smiling—with a pipe in his mouth.

"It was undoubtedly a happy thought making a picture about him, and putting Jack Barrymore in the title role was little short of inspiration. Mr. Barrymore has a light air of infallibility, anyhow.

Really you will have an awfully good time watching him work in this film. If you have a small neighbor who is in the throes of detective literature take his hand and lead him to the Capitol theatre, too. I fancy little boys are going to derive an immense kick from the story and the manner of its telling.

"The London scenes were taken in London. That's nice, isn't it? All the eerie atmosphere of the story has been preserved in toto. No less a person than the ineffable, Roland Young plays Watson! That in itself is worth the price of admission."

After commenting on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's approval of the picture, the Morning Telegraph continues: "Thus making it unanimous, that 'Sherlock Holmes' is one of the greatest film successes that Mr. Barrymore has ever made and a superlatively fine motion picture. Had Conan Doyle himself started out to conjure up an embodiment in flesh and blood of all the baffling, canny, whimsical ironic and astute characteristics of the greatest detective, he could not have invoked a more fascinating reality than Mr. Barrymore. The latter's impersonation will doubtless seem many things to many people. But each one will wonder with the same breathless amazement how he knew that Watson moved his bureau, and chuckle in the same degree when he tricks Moriarty, behind the curtain, for here is the perfect detective story, camera told."

Other metropolitan critics were equally impressed by the picturization of "Sherlock Holmes," which will be shown at the Tabb Theatre Friday night, December 1.

EXIT "RED" ROBERTS

A dispatch Tuesday from Danville says: "The Colonels came through their last hard workout of the season today in fine fettle and with a soft signal rehearsal Wednesday will be ready for Sol Metzger and his Fighting Gamecocks of South Carolina, who make their first appearance on a Kentucky gridiron at Cheek Field on Thursday afternoon. Captain Roberts returned Monday from New Haven, Conn., where he watched the Harvard and Yale game, and, according to his own statement, he picked up a lot of football. Although "Red" Roberts was well known in high school circles before he entered Centre it was in the Colonels-Great Lakes game in '18 that the big Somerset youth first gained any publicity. In that tilt he booted a dropkick from the 59-yard line and immediately his name became a byword of sport critics throughout the country. "Red" was satisfied with his freshman performance and in '19 he had his big opportunity at Charleston, W. Va., when Centre tackled the University of West Virginia Mountaineers. He made the best of it and the way he wrecked the team that had downed Princeton on the Saturday previous by a 25-to-0 count is now a matter of history in and around Charleston. Roberts had the honor of being the first Kentucky youth to make Walter Camp's All-American eleven. "Red" was given a position on the third team in '19 and named first All-American end last year. This year he has enjoyed an excellent season, although fate has turned her face on him on two occasions. "Red" will make his last appearance Thursday along with Terry Snowday and Ben Oregor, two sturdy Kentucky youths who have played leads in Centre's successful grid performances. The fact that these three boys are making their last bow is sufficient of warrant a good crowd."

TREATING BREEDING EWES CUTS DOWN WORM TROUBLE

Stomach worms, present in almost every flock of sheep in Kentucky, annually cause a heavy loss to farmers and breeders of the state, according to L. J. Horlacher, in charge of the sheep work at the College of Agriculture. Farmers can take a big step at this time of the year to wipe out this trouble by treating their pregnant ewes with copper sulphate. If ewes are free of worms before the lambing season comes, the chances of the lambs getting worms are considerably lessened.

A solution made of copper sulphate, commonly known as bluestone, is the best one to use in treating the ewes. The solution is made by dissolving one-fourth of a pound of powdered copper sulphate in a quart of boiling water and then diluting this to three gallons. This amount is enough to dose 100 ewes.

In treating ewes, they should be kept off feed the night before and then drenched the following morning after which they should be kept for from six to eight hours longer. The dose for each ewe is about three and a half ounces or seven tablespoonsful. In case the ewes are in a badly rundown condition, they should be given a drench of epsom salts about 24 hours after the copper sulphate treatment. One-fourth of a pound of the salts dissolved in water is enough for each ewe.

GENEROUS GIFT

The Kaufman Clothing Company, Lexington, has a generous annual custom that is worth while to the churches and is a novel way of advertising as well. At this period of the year the company allots a portion of the first floor of its modern sales room to what is termed "Holiday Lane." This space is tastefully decorated in holiday attire at the expense of the company and then given free to as many churches as may desire to put on special holiday sales for the benefit of their respective organizations. It is a real generosity on the part of the clothing company, for in this way it contributes to the churches a space worth many dollars. We take notice that this is also a novel way of advertising, for every church organization has an opportunity to know the Kaufman Company and its manner of doing business more perfectly. This is a custom that belongs to this concern and were we in business of this kind to extend our trade, for by this method we would be better known. The Kaufman Company is always presenting something new and worth while to the general public and as it is in this way of doing things it is in getting the new in styles and fabrics to its trade.

Exports of corn during each of the first three months of 1922 were larger than during any month of 1921, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

MANY KENTUCKY BEEKEEPERS MAKE A LIVING FROM HONEY

Although beekeeping usually is taken on as a sideline, there are beekeepers in many parts of Kentucky who make a good living by giving all their time to the production of honey, according to a revised circular entitled, "Elements of Beekeeping," which has just come off the press at the College of Agriculture, and which is being sent out free to interested persons. Any locality where farming, gardening or fruit growing is followed is adapted to the keeping of bees. The mountain sections of the state are good places for beekeeping because of the wild plants and the native forest trees, the circular points out.

It is best to start with a few colonies and make the bees pay for themselves and after that buy more equipment and gradually make the apary bigger. A few colonies managed right can be made a paying investment, considering the amount of money and time expended on them.

Fall feeding and wintering of bees are given special attention in the new circular, which points out that lack of enough food, no winter protection and too few bees to go through the winter are the three big causes for losses in beekeeping during that season. In sections where winters are long and severe, as is some times the case in Kentucky, and when brood rearing has been suspended for several months, the colony should go into the winter with plenty of stores and some kind of protection from the cold.

Equipment necessary for the beginner in beekeeping, the kinds of bees to get, a suggested outfit for beginners, the colony itself, how to get the bees, transferring them to movable frame hives, the importance of good queens, the location of the apary, surplus honey and the general management of bees are dealt with in detail in the new circular. Bee diseases, sources of honey and the uses and care of honey are given attention in the new publication. It also contains a number of pictures and drawings designed to be of practical help to the beekeeper. The new circular may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station, Lexington, and asking for Circular No. 69.

If things keep on as they are now going, we will soon need laws to help enforce the law of supply and demand.

"Can the flapper make her way?" She doesn't have to make her way; she has it.

FORD, RAIL AND COAL MAGNATE?

If the negotiations between Henry Ford interests and the Elkhorn Coal Company as reported from the east, are consummated it is admitted by well posted coal and railroad men that Ford is likely to change the complexion of things somewhat in the bituminous coal fields of eastern Kentucky, and likely to become the real coal baron of the country, adding that to his title, of premier automobile manufacturer.

On the same basis if he develops some more great feeders for his D. T. & L, such as his proposed railroad into Kentucky, he may become one of the really big railroad magnates some of these days, as Ford has undoubtedly the financial backing for anything he undertakes.

According to reports from New York, Ford is after about 190,000 acres of coal land in eastern Kentucky, controlled by the Elkhorn Coal Company. C. W. Watson, chairman of the board of the Elkhorn Company, has admitted that negotiations are on, but denies that they have been concluded. William B. Mayo, engineer of the Ford interests, also admits that there is a deal pending, he having just returned to Detroit from New York, but contended that so far the board of the Elkhorn Coal Company has been unable to secure the backing of sixty per cent of its stockholders.

It is claimed that the bulk of the properties sought, much of which has been developed, lies in Floyd county, with other holdings in Pike, Knott, Magoffin, Johnson and Letcher counties of Kentucky, with some acreage across the line in Upshur and Randolph counties, Virginia.
